

JUN 4 1961

Approved For Release 2000/04/13 : CIA-RDP70-00058R0002

MOBILE (Ala.)
PRESS

Circ.: e. 70,540
S. 87,911

Front Edit Other
Page Page Page

Date: JUN 4 1961

STATINTL

CIA Changes In Order

Reports that Allen W. Dulles has resigned or soon will resign as director of the Central Intelligence Agency have been denied by a CIA spokesman.

Talk of a shakeup in the super-secret agency has not died down since the Cuban fiasco, as the latest rumors of Mr. Dulles' prospective exit as director illustrate.

Immediately after the abortive Cuban invasion, comment to the effect that changes in the CIA appeared advisable became rather widespread.

Although talk about the advisability of changes has subsided to some extent, this does not mean that opinion itself is any less pronounced.

Whether Mr. Dulles remains or goes as director, the American people apparently will feel better if the Central Intelligence Agency is given a good shaking up.

Moreover, no time should be lost unnecessarily in getting the job done.

Approved For Release 2000/04/13 : CIA-RDP70-00058R000200140062-6